

KURT FULLBECK

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY INDIANA ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

Kurt Fullbeck serves as the Senior Vice President, Development Strategy at the Indiana Economic Development Corporation (IEDC). In this role, he is responsible for strategic operations of the READI 1 grants, LEAP Lebanon planning and the Central Indiana Water project.

With a rich professional history spanning more than 18 years, Fullbeck brings a wealth of diverse experience to his role at IEDC. His extensive expertise encompasses public policy, nonprofits, community development and grants. Notably, he served as Director, Business Development at REDI Cincinnati, where he orchestrated the development of the Cincinnati Innovation District (CID) in coordination with the University of Cincinnati and JobsOhio. Fullbeck's journey began as a Project Assistant for the City of Indianapolis, progressing to his position as Senior Policy Advisor for Economic Development for the Indianapolis Bond Bank. Subsequently, Fullbeck became the Real Estate Development Manager for Al. Neyer and finally as a site selection consultant for Ernst and Young where he represented numerous fortune 500 companies on their expansion plans.

Kurt is a graduate of Indiana University–Purdue University Indianapolis where he earned his bachelor's in Political Science. He has been a resident of Indiana for over 25 years and currently resides in West Harrison with his wife and two daughters.